

Ⓐ

The days of wine and roses

Laugh and run away like a child at play.

Ⓑ

Through the meadowland toward a closing door,

A door marked "Never-more," that wasn't there before.

Ⓐ

The lonely night discloses

Just a passing breeze filled with memories

Ⓒ

Of the golden smile that introduced me to

The days of wine and roses and you.